Fun & Games Fun & Games

Here is a compilation of companies exhibiting new videogames, computer games, and related products at the Summer Consumer Electronics Show. Note that some companies are showing their products in meeting rooms or hotel suites rather than on the show floor, and advance appointments may be required.

(Every effort has been made to insure this list is as complete as possible, but if you know of a company that was omitted, please contact Game Player's.)

ABSOLUTE ENTERTAINMENT (Nintendo booth 7346-7958 McCormick North for NES products; Sega booth 6947 McCormick North for Sega; and Atari booth 7335 McCormick North for Atari 7800): For Nintendo, A Boy and His Blob, designed by David Crane; and Shredder, a sports game based on snow boarding. Sega games include James Bond 007 and the radio control car game R.C. Grand Prix. Through Mediagenic, Atari 7800 games include Kung Fu Master, Title Match Pro Wrestling, Pete Rose Baseball; Tomcat: F-14 Fighter Simulator, F-18 Hornet, and Super Skateboarding.

ACCESS (Soft-Kat booth, 7341 McCormick North): A revised version of World Class Leader Board featuring Realsound, a new process that produces realistic digitized music, speech, and sound effects on ordinary IBM compatibles; and a new version of Echelon, a space-flight simulator for IBM compatibles, with Realsound.

ACCLAIM ENTERTAINMENT (Nintendo booth, 7346-7958 McCormick North): Nintendo titles include Double Dragon II: The Revenge, a sequel to the popular martial arts game, planned for release around Christmas; Bigfoot, an off-road racing game with four-wheel-drive trucks; and Cybernoid, a space action game from Europe. Also exhibited is the Double Player System 2 wireless remote controller, which allows two people to play a Nintendo game simultaneously; and four new Superplay hand-held games, including Knight Rider, 1943, Wizards & Warriors, and The WrestleMania Challenge, plus a boxing game to be announced.

ACCOLADE (7341 McCormick North): Eight new games for IBM compatibles, including two sports simulations, a role-playing game, an adventure game, a driving simulation, and a flight simulator.

AD LIB (6857 McCormick North and also at the Soft-Kat booth, 7341 McCormick North): Visual Composer Staff Notation Print Utility is a new music composition tool designed to work with Ad Lib's plug-in sound card for IBM-compatible computers. Ad Lib is also demonstrating games from other software publishers that are compatible with the Ad Lib card, including Kings of the Beach and 688 Attack Sub (Electronic Arts); Omicron Conspiracy (Epyx); Murder Club (Kyodal); Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade (LucasFilm); F-19 Stealth Fighter version 3.0 and Red Storm Rising (MicroProse); Times of Lore (Origin); Doctor Doom's Revenge (Paragon); King's Quest IV, Leisure Suit Larry 2, Police Quest 2, Silpheed, and Space Quest 3 (Sierra); and Renegade and Sky Shark (Taito).

Kung Fu Master - Absolute Entertainment

ADVANCED GRAVIS (6537 McCormick North): The Mousestick, an ergonomically designed joystick particularly suited for playing games on large-screen monitors, as well as use with drawing programs and similar applications. There are versions for the Macintosh, Apple IIGS, Amiga, Atari ST, and IBM compatibles.

AMERICAN SAMMY (Nintendo booth, 7346-7958 McCormick North): Nintendo titles include Thundercade, a motorcycle battle to save the world; Ninja Taro, an action game with a pint-sized martial-arts expert; and Twin Cobra, an action game involving a super helicopter. All three were adapted from popular arcade games.

ARCADIA (Virgin Mastertronic booth, 6941-6944 McCormick North): New IBM-compatible games include Double Dragon II, a sequel to the popular martial arts action game; and Artura, a new action game.

ATARI CORP. (7335 McCormick North): Atari's booth is divided into videogame, computer, and calculator sections. Among the new videogame products are five titles for the 7800 Pro System, three for the 2600 VCS, and three for the XE game system. In the computer section, Atari is showing its Portfolio, a handheld IBM PC-compatible computer.

AVALON HILL (6641 McCormick North): Police Blotter, a text-and-graphics detective game with lots of puzzle-solving and seven different cases to investigate, for the Apple II, IBM compatibles, and the Macintosh; Combots, a game that allows players to construct their own robots and then do battle with invading aliens from outer space, for the Commodore 64 and Amiga; The Rise And Decline of the Third Reich, based on the board game of the same name, for the Atari ST, Amiga, Macintosh, and IBM compatibles; World War II Wipe Out (working title), a man-to-man combat game based on the board game Ambush, for the Atari ST and IBM compatibles; Legends of the Lost Realm, a fantasy role-playing game for the Macintosh; Computer Acquire, based on the board game Acquire, in which would-be Trumps and Hiltons wheel and deal with hotels, for IBM compatibles; and Win, Place, and Show, a horse-racing game for IBM compatibles.

BANDAI (Nintendo booth, 7346-7958 McCormick North): New Nintendo titles include Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, based on the classic horror story; Wild Boys, a kung fu action game in which players can be any one of four characters; Star Trek V, based on this summer's movie; and Monster Party, in which a young baseball player is mysteriously transported into an alien world, still armed with his baseball bat. For the power pad, Athletic World offers unusual, often comic, sports for participation; and Street Cop puts the player on a city beat, nabbing crooks on seven different levels. Shooting Range is a light-gun game for single players or groups which moves the shooting gallery to remote locales such as a town in the wild West, a haunted house, and outer space.

BEESHU (7159 McCormick North): In addition to its other joysticks and peripherals for computer and videogames, Beeshu is introducing the Gizmo. This joystick offers three speed controls with auto fire (as fast as 30 shots per second), left- or right-hand play, one- and two-player options, four turbo buttons, a headphone jack, and a volume control.

BRODERBUND (7735 McCormick North for software; Nintendo booth, 7346-7958 McCormick North, for NES products): The newest Carmen Sandiego game will be announced for IBM and compatibles and Apple formats. Affiliate features will include Domark's Licenced to Kill, based on the James Bond movie, for IBM and compatibles; Kyodai's Murder Club for IBM and compatibles; and Maxis's Sim City for IBM and compatibles and the Macintosh. For NES, Broderbund will demonstrate their U-Force, which translates the player's physical motions into on-screen results. Games featured will be Legacy of the Wizard, an action role-playing adventure to save a wizard imprisoned by a dragon; The Guardian Legend, in which the player must battle through an alien world to save the earth; and The Battle of Olympus, a quest by Orpheus to save his wife, Helene, whose soul has been stolen by Hades.

Chomp! - Cosmi

CALIFORNIA DREAMS (6655 McCormick North): New titles include Hot Rod, a car racing game with 25 different vehicles from which to choose, and Block-Out, a 3-D puzzle game.

CAMERICA (7935 McCormick North): The Freedom Connection, a device that converts any wired joystick into a wireless controller; and the Freedom Stick, a wireless infrared joystick. Both products are for Nintendo, Sega, Atari, and Commodore systems.

CAPCOM (Nintendo games are being exhibited at the Nintendo booth, 7346-7958 McCormick North, and computer games at the Soft-Kat booth, 7341 McCormick North): For Nintendo, Capcom is showing Willow, based on last summer's fantasy movie; and DuckTales, a Disney-licensed game about the adventures of millionaire Scrooge McDuck. Capcom's computer titles include Pocket Rockets for the Commodore 64, a driving game with high-performance motorcycles; Last Duel, in which players drive and fly into battle; Side Arms, adapted from the arcade game involving an attack on alien forces in the 21st century; and LED Storm, another arcade translation, which takes players for a ride down the elevated hyperways of the future. Last Duel, Side Arms, and LED Storm are available for the Amiga and Atari ST.

CAPSTONE: (see INTRACORP).

CINEMAWARE (hotel suite at the Ritz Carlton, by appointment only): New titles include It Came From the Desert, based on the classic mutant-bug science-fiction movies of the late 1940s and '50s, and TV Sports Basketball. Also being shown: the Atari ST version of TV Sports Football, and ST and Amiga IIGS versions of Rocket Ranger.

CONTRIVER TECHNOLOGY (6544 McCormick North): UFO remote joysticks for the Commodore 64/128 and the Nintendo Entertainment System.

BAD DUDES MAKES DOUBLE DRAGON PALE BY COMPARISON

Ask anyone who's played them both in the arcade. Bad Dudes is clearly the game of choice. It's no contest.

BAD DUDES has better graphics. Better action. Better playability. From the arcade to the Nintendo to computer formats, you can count on a better game with BAD DUDES. And we're even available on more systems than they are.

The joystick play is incredible—fast, smooth and responsive. And the game play and graphics of the home versions are amazingly true to the arcade original.

Check it out for yourself. The martial arts excitement of BAD DUDES makes Double Dragon play like a dinosaur. One soon to be extinct.

NINTENDO GAME of the MONTH SUPER MARIO

The editors and game players

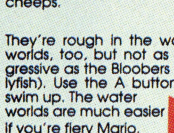

Here you must time your runs to keep from being killed by the cheep-cheeps.

Wait for them to fly up, then run under them.

Millions of Nintendo players now own Super Mario. And we suspect that a few haven't yet played all of the way through. Here are some clues, maps, hints, and tips that our editors and game players put together for you.

Throughout this game your timing is very important. Jumping and leaping are critical skills in the treetop worlds. You just have to work your way through, learning when to jump and when to wait.

They're rough in the water worlds, too, but not as aggressive as the Bloobers (jellyfish). Use the A button to swim up. The water worlds are much easier if you're fiery Mario.

Here you must time your runs to keep from being killed by the cheep-cheeps.

Uh oh... It's the Hammer Brothers. These guys are bad! It's best to be fiery Mario whenever you have to get past them.

All through the game you'll find hidden coin boxes, fire plants, magic mushrooms, and more. These samples show you what you're looking for.

DON'T MISS A SINGLE ISSUE OF THE HOTTEST NEW MAGAZINE IN VIDEO AND COMPUTER GAMES!

Nintendo is a registered trademark of Nintendo of America Inc.

All right, I admit it. I get excited about the return of baseball. I follow the results during spring training. I make a few phone calls about season tickets, hoping that somehow they're on sale for 70 percent off. And I watch the season opener and home opener as if each was the seventh game of the World Series.

PC PLAYERS

Take Me Out To The Videogame

Neil Randall

One more confession. When spring training begins, I find myself searching for my computer baseball games. I play Accolade's Hardball while watching a game on TV. I look to Gamera's Pete Rose Pennant Fever when I want to test my skills at building a franchise. Mondays, with the sports pages in front of me, I boot up Electronic Arts' Earl Weaver Baseball, change some statistics, and play the games my favorite team will be playing that week.

Why do I have three baseball simulations? Because each one has its own particular focus. Hardball is purely an action game, with an emphasis on the classic confrontation between pitcher and batter. Pete Rose Pennant Fever is a franchise-building game, in which you have ten seasons to assemble a championship team. Earl Weaver Baseball focuses on managing the individual game; all of its many features are designed with that in mind.

Hardball

In Hardball, the screen you see most often shows your pitcher (either left-handed or right-handed) preparing to throw to the plate. It's the classic viewpoint of televised baseball, as seen from somewhere in left-center field.

The menus at the bottom of the Hardball screen show your options. Using the keyboard, joystick, or mouse, you select the pitch you wish to throw. If you're batting, you choose to bunt, steal, or swing away.

Once the defensive player has selected the pitch, and the offensive player the batting option, the menus change. Now the pitcher chooses a location for the pitch, while the batter selects whether he will swing high, low, inside, or outside. When you're batting against a human opponent, the catcher's glove moves as a signal to where the pitch might be going. When playing against the computer, you're at a distinct disadvantage — the glove does not

1 Hardball: The pitcher-batter screen.

2 Hardball: Fielding a batted ball.

3 Pete Rose: The main view from behind home plate.

4 Pete Rose: The pitcher-batter screen.

5 Pete Rose: Selecting Pete Rose's position.

In the days before Christmas, people hunting for Nintendo cartridges to stuff into the stockings of their loved ones mainly found empty racks. Every new game seemed to be in short supply.

But since January there has been a consistent stream of new releases. Even Super Mario Bros. 2 and Double Dragon are now available.

able. And it seems the new releases have more personality than games of the past — which all too often seemed interchangeable, like clones of each other. Certainly Amagon, Bubble Bobble, and Golgo 13 are not imitations of games that have come before.

Bionic Commando
Neither is Bionic Commando, Capcom's new adventure. Okay, our hero is single-handedly battling hordes of heavily armed soldiers, trying to rescue Super Joe, and attempting to destroy the Imperial Army's arsenals at the same time. And yes, he's armed with a gun that gets more powerful throughout the game until it becomes a "hyper bazooka."

Still, the Bionic Commando

does not run, jump, and karate chop his way through enemy lines. Instead, he has a special grappling mechanism called a bionic arm. When he reaches a chasm, or when he needs to reach a high ledge, he just shoots a wire (remember Spiderman?) which is immediately anchored. Then he can either jump across the chasm or raise himself to the ledge.

The game begins on a map of 19 areas. The helicopter which drops the Bionic Commando can travel to any of the zones. Watch out for enemy trucks, however, because when you run into one, you automatically descend and battle the enemy. Areas 1 through 12 are each different, with dangerous missions to complete. Areas 13-19 are "neutral zones." They contain masses of enemies to defeat, but always in the same patterns. You'll pick up vital supplies in the neutral zones that you'll need to complete other areas. A flare gun in zone 13, for example, lights the tunnel in area 4 so you won't have to battle soldiers in the dark.

When you encounter the enemy, you descend into one of two locales—a beach or a desert. Here, you fight the enemy on a short,

- 1 Study the Bionic Commando map to decide when to descend and when to transfer.
- 2 In area 1, you should quickly get behind this soldier and shoot him before he shoots you.
- 3 This power beam is deadly, so hold yourself up and shoot out the generator.
- 4 Fire directly into the core of the main system to destroy it, but watch for soldiers!
- 5 When you eliminate armored soldiers in the vertical scrolling scenes, you earn eagles worth extra firepower.

The Ad Lib Music Card: Open your ears and blow your mind.

Asteroids are hurtling by. Enemy photons are destroying the rear deflectors. Engines strain as they reach critical mass. Suddenly you hit the retros, loop around, and fire with everything you've got.

And what kind of awesome, breath-taking music is your computer playing? "Bleep, bop, beep." Pretty weak, eh?

Well listen up. Because now there's the Ad Lib Music Card. It's the digital music synthesizer that's conquering the final frontier of truly realistic game playing—totally ear-blasting sound.

Confront the dark overlord, and Ad Lib's 11-piece orchestra will back you up with gutsy, heart-swelling music. And if you meet an untimely death, rest assured that Ad Lib's funeral dirge will bring tears to the eyes of your loved ones.

In fact, the Ad Lib sound is so hot, major game developers are now designing dozens of new adventures with special soundtracks just for the Ad Lib Music Card.

Call us at 1-800-463-2686 for the name of your nearest dealer, for more information, and for the ever-growing list of major game titles with spectacular Ad Lib soundtracks.

Add the missing dimension to your games with the Ad Lib Music Card. From a solo to a symphony, Ad Lib's music makes the adventure come alive.
